

Jonathan Peterson

CASTING INFORMATION

Character Overview:

Supporting Role

Age Range: Early 40s

Ethnicity: Caucasian

Physical Description: Rugged, weathered, fit: a fisherman accustomed to hard work and long days on the water.

Jonathan is Simon's father, a hardworking commercial fisherman who spends long stretches of time offshore. Physically and emotionally grounded, Jonathan sees his role as provider first and believes he is doing what's best for his family by staying out on the water.

Unaware of the seriousness of Simon's condition, Jonathan delays returning home trusting that his wife Laura has things under control. His absence causes deep tension in the family, especially between him and Laura.

What We're Looking For:

We are seeking a male actor in his early 40s who can portray a rugged, emotionally complex character. The ideal candidate should be able to convey regret, pride, emotional distance and ultimately softened vulnerability as the story unfolds.

The ability to portray a working-class or outdoorsman character is a plus. Strong dramatic instincts, especially in scenes with confrontation and reconciliation. Faith-friendly alignment is welcome. We're open to actors of varied levels of experience but most importantly we need someone who is natural, believable and fully committed to the role. Authentic delivery is essential.
